THE LONG WEEKEND

WHATEVER YOU DO MAKE IT COUNT

Coffee, cake and a bike? It's the wheel thing.

It's a bike store but not as we know it. While William Street Cycle Co, in Northbridge, sells beautiful bikes from Japan and Australia, it also offers fabulous coffee and a cool courtyard in which to park yourself (and your bike).

Take a walk down memory lane as James Morrison (above), Patti Austin and WASO's Big Band Horns share the superb sounds of jazz legends Ella Fitzgerald and Louis Armstrong. A Celebration of Ella and Louis is at Crown Theatre on June 9, see ticketmaster.com.au.

Make cleaning an all-natural affair with Koala Eco's new range. Featuring essential oils such as eucalyptus and peppermint, the products clean up in more ways than one. See koala.eco.

Jessica Chastain tends elephants, zebras and other exotic animals as The Zookeeper's Wife in pre-war Poland. And then the Nazis arrive. Be prepared to weep buckets in this very moving film based on the true story of Antonina Zabinski and husband Jan.
