The London Honey Co™

PURVEYORS OF FINE HONEY

WAREHOUSE ASSISTANT

JOIN THE COLONY

We're looking for someone with the energy, attention to detail and work ethic of a honeybee and an equal love of honey!

Founded by an ex-photojournalist turned beekeeper, the London Honey Company are purveyors of the finest single origin, raw honey, honeycomb, handmade 100% beeswax candles and 100% British mead. We are beekeepers to some of the capital's most iconic rooftops including Fortnum and Mason and the Tate art galleries. As well as managing beehives for top clients, we also tend to our own hives across the country, from Kent to Shropshire.

Our honeycomb is now a regular feature on the plates of chefs including Angela Hartnett, Marcus Waring and Skye Gyngell, as well as on the shelves of food halls in London and on the continent. The London Honey Company operates from a railway arch in Spa Terminus, Bermondsey. Spa Terminus is an area of like-minded businesses dedicated to quality food production and distribution, on Saturdays ourselves and a large number of other businesses in the neighbourhood open our doors for the general public to buy food. Our products can also be purchased through our online shop, in quality food stores across the country and select outlets abroad.
