U speaker instructions:

• Play one Pro - Turn on the speaker by pressing the power button for a few seconds until you hear a sound indicator and the blue lights come on. Turn on the

- device you wish to pair with the U speaker and activate the Bluetooth function. Search for Bluetooth pairing name "Uspeaker" and click to pair. The speaker will pair automatically.
- Camera remote control To take a photo, open your camera app and click once on the power button of your U speaker. The selfie remote control will work with most social media or camera apps.
- . Charaina When the battery needs to be charaed, you will hear a sound indicator that will let you know to plua it in. To charge the device, simply use the included micro USB cable and wait until the red light turns off. This will indicate that the device is fully charged. For your convenience we included a chargina tray so you can charge both speakers at the same time. Use the included black USB cable to plug the tray into a power source for easy charaina.
- Fix a disabled key board If you experience that your keyboard has been disabled on your device while connected to the U speaker, double click the speaker power button to enable your keyboard.
- Pair two speakers for stereo surround sound Prior to pairing, go to your bluetooth settings and select "forget device" on any Uspeaker that shows in range. Next, turn both speakers on and double click on the back button of one of the two Pro speakers. You will hear a sound indicating that the speakers are paired. The one you double clicked on will be your main speaker and will have a blinking light underneath. Go to your Bluetooth settings to find the speaker under the name "Uspeaker" and connect it. You should only have one Uspeaker connected to your device, the second speaker is paired to the first and it will pick up the signal. Now you can play your music and enjoy your stereo surround sound. The main speaker can be used to take photos with the remote control function.
- *After the first pairing of 2 Pros, the speakers will pair automatically anytime they are turned on, as long as the Bluetooth settings have not been changed.

Please note: The Pro speakers can be charged simultaneously and while playing music. To use the charaina station, connect the tray to a power source and place the pro speakers on the tray.

IMPORTANT: ensure that the rectangular hole on the outer edge side of each speaker alians with the notch on the charaina base and that the speakers are adjusted perfectly in their base. A red light will turn on under each speaker to indicate that they are charaina.
