- Play - Turn on the speaker by holding the power button down for three seconds until you hear a sound indicator and the blue light will come on and continue to flash. Turn on the device you wish to pair with the U Boost and activate the Bluetooth function. Search for Bluetooth pairing name "U Speakers-Boost" and click to pair. The speaker will pair automatically.

- Camera remote control - To take a photo, open your camera app and click the power button on your speaker once to take a picture. The selfie remote control will work with most social media or camera apps
- Charging - When the battery needs to be charged, the music will begin to dim. To charge the device, simply connect the micro USB cable to a USB port. Once the red light turns off, the device is fully charged.
- Fix a disabled key board - If you experience that your keyboard has been disabled on your device while connected to the U Boost, double click the power button on your speaker to re-enable your keyboard
- Stereo mode (only for two speakers)- Power on two U Boost speakers and wait a few seconds until you hear a sound indicating that they are now synced with each other. If you do not hear the sound indicator after 30 seconds you can force them to pair by double clicking the back of one of the speakers. It is very important to do this before turning your Bluetooth on. You will know the speakers are paired because one will have a steady blue light and the other will have a flashing blue light. Now you can turn on your Bluetooth and find "U Boost" on the list, making sure only one shows up. From here you can click to pair and play stereo.
