

Bosch Rexroth Valve Conversion Program

Burton is teaming up with the industry's premier valve producer, Bosch, to replace obsolete and long-leadtime valves with the best valves in the industry. Our highly flexible conversion program makes it easy to upgrade any existing valve, regardless of brand name, to a more efficient option from Bosch, including the series-4x valves.

Bosch proportional directional valves are high-response control valves with spool position feedback. They also have an increased temperature range, and are even more resistant to mechanical shock and vibration.
