The ADCE assumes no liability regarding medical, nursing, dental, esthetician or other state board requirements. Participants need to determine whether they are able to acquire and use prescription based products and perform these procedures at ADCE courses and in their own practices. ADCE is not responsible for decisions or changes made by state medical/dental/nursing/esthetician boards about their state practice acts prior to or after ADCE courses. It is the responsibility of each individual practitioner to diagnose, treat, and document patient care within their training, scope of practice, and experience and to ensure patients under their care are diagnosed, treated, and documented appropriately.

Healthcare professionals attending ADCE courses must exercise independent, professional judgment, and perform the full standard of care in treating their patients, including but not limited to obtaining a medical history, examination, diagnosis, and treatment plan. Advanced Dental CE LLC assumes no responsibility for patient care and provides no specific medical, dental, or legal advice.

Model Patients

For the best learning experience, please bring your own model patients. If you bring your own model patients, you may bring up to 2 patients per training session. This is a teaching course so please advise your model patients that they must be available for approximately 3-4 hours. You and your team members may serve as patients. The ADCE does not provide model patients.

Additional Licensed Professionals and Staff

Additional medical/dental professionals and/or team members who show up at the course will be charged appropriately.

Live Patient Course Participation

Film, video, and photographs are taken at ADCE events. By entering the event and your presence, you give unqualified consent to: AAFE, its agents, licensees to record, use and publicize your voice, actions, likeness and appearance, in any manner and media, worldwide in perpetuity. If you wish to avoid being recorded, please do not enter this event. Please share this with your team and patients that may accompany you to the course. All policies are subject to change at any time.
