COOPERSMARK WHISKEY FLOORING

Uncommon Beauty

Another of our stunning materials available exclusively from the Antique Barrel Collection by The Vintage Wood Floor Company. The floor is produced from the stamped exterior of retired whiskey/bourbon barrels.

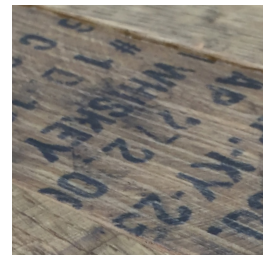

Our Antique Barrel Collection Coopersmark Whiskey Barrel Flooring is made from the exterior of retired whiskey barrels heads. The striking variety of color tones and patina along with the authenticity of the maker's (Cooper's) marks--and distiller's stampings makes it the surface of choice for whiskey aficionados everywhere, or designers looking for the next stunning floor that people will talk about.

We have made a name for ourselves in a business where competitors come and go. We painstakingly hand make every floor ourselves. This labor intensive process is costly but the resulting products speak for themselves--and get people talking!

Don't think that because we call this a floor that it can't be used for other purposes. In fact, we use this material ourselves to create eye catching counter and table tops, shelving, wall and ceiling paneling, and backslashes. The uses are truly endless.

Our floors help you tell a story and bring history home. No where else can you get a floor with such a story to tell. Retired whiskey and bourbon barrels given a new life and saved from the scrap pile.
