

Daddy's Little Cowboy

Mike Puhallo

Daddy's little cowboy was all of 4 years old.
So many things he didn't know
but 4-year-olds are bold.
Daddy's little cowboy cried some all alone.
But he never told a soul about the first time he got thrown.

Because I would have got my butt whipped for messin' with that horse.
Old "Banjo" was a mean one and we'd all been warned of course.
But Daddy's little cowboy thought he'd have a try.
I jumped on him from the fence rail
though I still ain't sure just why!!

He threw me on the first jump
if the truth just must be told.
And the fall is long, and the ground is hard,
when you're only 4 years old.
Now Daddy's little cowboy has been around a bit.
And spent most of his life riding broncs
just for the fun of it.

But I won't forget the first one.
Way back at the start.
Cause this 40-year-old cowboy is still just 4 at heart!
