How to Choose a Plug & Liner Grower Specialist

We work closely with five different plug & liner specialists and allow our customers to choose those who suits their needs the closest. Here's what to consider when evaluating specialists.

Products. Flip to page 10 for products available by supplier. This chart illustrates what products each grower specialist produces. Use this tool to help you determine which grower specialist best matches your needs to streamline your ordering process. Note: You are welcome to order from multiple grower specialists!

Tray Sizes. Once you find the grower specialist(s) who supply the plants you're looking for, look at this page and the next to see the featured tray sizes each offers. Choose a tray size that supplies the number of plants you want in a cell size that will grow to finish when you want. Standard trays measure 11 x 22", but the cell size and number of cells per tray vary. The more cells in a tray, the smaller the plants. Strip trays range from 1/3 to 1/2 of a standard tray.

Order Minimum and Boxing Requirements. Our grower specialists each have minimum and multiple tray requirements, so be sure to request or view each price list that supplies this information.

Early Order Discount. Take advantage of our EOD programs for plugs & liners. Flip to page 11 for the 2020-2021 grower calendar.
