Red Dragon – Mustard Seed and Ale

Red Dragon is a Cheddar cheese from Wales blended with brown ale and mustard seeds.

Red Dragon is moist yet firm. It is made from pasteurised cows milk and vegetarian rennet and is aged for 3 months. It is made in waxed wheels of 2.25kg. The mustard seeds add both to the texture and the taste of the cheese. The taste has been described as buttery and spicy, but not too spicy.

Serve Red Dragon with dark ale or try a strong red wine. It is an excellent table cheese that melts well on a sandwich.

Long Clawson Thomas Hoe Aged Leicestershire Red

Long Clawson Aged Leicestershire Red is traditionally made in the heart of the Vale of Belvoir, UK.

Matured to approximately 6 months, Clawson Aged Leicestershire Red has a flaky open texture and a lemony, slightly sweet nutty caramelised flavour reminiscent of the varieties produced in the county from where it originated centuries ago.

Popular in Victorian times, this classic English Cheese is cloth bound during maturation to aid the development of the rust red coat, making the cheese truly authentic.
