

ALL ALOHA COLLECTION

Custom Order Request & Contract

Kealopiko's ALL Aloha Collection are custom pieces produced and created uniquely by hand in Hawaii at our Molokai Workshop. Because each piece is unique and custom, and not mass produced, rather small batch – each piece is individually different and never identically the same. We take pride in this beautiful process – it is not exact, and the slight imperfections that occur bring more beauty and surprise.

Before continuing and committing to this custom request, please accept our process and acknowledge it below by signing your name.

If things need to be exact for your order, then we humbly ask you to seek your request elsewhere and mahalo you for thinking of us.

Also, please send images too (screenshots from our website/social media pages). All is helpful! Mahalo nui

Please write in your preferences below each category:

Body Color – The color the garment will be dyed. Please select colors here: <http://www.cal-print.com/InkColorChart.htm> Note: Dark colors are extremely difficult for us to create due to our environmentally friendly dye process.

Our DYE process requires drying in the sun, wind and natural elements. This gives the fabric a weather-look and texture, different from a more tradition uniform looks of pigment dying. Fabric may have a 'wrinkled', slightly streaked or tonal 'tie-dye' depending on the intensity of the sun and wind the day we dye for fabric.

 All apparel is hand-dyed and hand-printed. We try our best to match your selected body and ink color but cannot guarantee it. We can guarantee that it will be within 2 shades of the requested color (either lighter or darker). Refunds or exchanges will not be accepted if the color is within this range.
