

Work Apron User Instructions

*We've worked very hard on making this guide useful, simple, and understandable.
Please read it carefully, and keep it safe for future reference. Cheers!*

- ✓ Your new work apron is tough, but not almighty - while it is designed to resist tears and abrasion, it is not cut or puncture proof. Make sure you don't place any sharp objects into the apron pockets without appropriate safety covers.
- ✓ Use the buckle clip to put the apron on and to take it off. The best way to adjust the apron is to first adjust the height and then the width. After finding the most comfortable position for the belt strap, adjust the height again until you feel a very light pressure from the shoulder straps. The apron should feel nice and snug around your body. Use the two elastic bands to secure the loose back strap.
- ✓ If you're going to carry heavier tools in the apron pockets, make sure to properly adjust the shoulder straps both in front and on the back, so that the shoulder pads remain in place your shoulders. If needed, readjust. That said...
- ✓ Do not overburden yourself with too many heavy tools in the apron at once. Make sure to watch your posture while working so that you do not overstrain your back.
- ✓ To remove minor dirt/stains from your work apron, use a soft brush. If the dirt/stains are stubborn, use a washcloth and lukewarm water with neutral detergent solution to clean it. NB! Do not machine wash or use hot water to clean the apron. Avoid bleach (chlorine or peroxide) as this will discolor and damage the fabrics, edge binding and sewing thread. Avoid the use of alcohol or alcohol based products. Do not machine dry or iron the apron. After cleaning, hang it to drip dry.
