

SIZING + GARMENT MEASUREMENTS

NOTES ON FITTING

The Rushcutter dress has been drafted for a B cup bust and a height of 170cm (5'7"). There are lengthen / shorten lines on the body pieces of the pattern, as well as the sleeve, if you would like to alter the length of the pattern for your body shape or style preference.

The pattern is nested to make for easy grading between sizes, but please note there is considerable wearing ease in this pattern (at waist and hip) so bear this in mind before grading up in these areas. Use the finished garment measurements below to assist you.

It is suggested that you make a toile / muslin (a test version of a garment, made from a similar, but often cheaper fabric). By making a toile, you can check the fit, and make any adjustments before cutting into your real fabric. You don't need to finish the seams or hems (or even add a zip or buttons), unless you would like to make a wearable toile.
