TWO PACK FEATURES

There are multiple different jean buttons on the market. Lucky for you, you now have two designs to accommodate a variety of jeans.

- One button cover is designed for standard size jean buttons. This cover is more rigid, which may make it more difficult to install, but once installed there is no fuss and no holes.
- The second button cover is more flexible, to make it suitable for larger buttons. If the button is not large enough it may have a tendency to come off during use.

By design, the more rigid Shirt Guardian button cover will take the shape of your jean button when it goes through the washer and dryer. Don't worry it will not mold to your jean button, and can be removed and reused anytime.

If by chance your jean button is too large and the button cover will not fit, simply return within 30 days for a refund. Refer to the Frequently Asked Questions at shirtguardian.com for more information.
