Comment A Chardonnay with both power and restraint. This wine opens with precise, chalky/flintstone minerality and then reveals hints of ripe Meyer lemons, grapefruit and savoury elements of brioche and almond. The palate is intensely structured with great direction and layer upon layer of flavour. Ripe fruit leads on to subtle oak and lacy phenolics - all underpinned by tasty fruit acidity that dances around the palate. There's a density and complexity to this wine without being at all aggressive or overbearing.

Short description A powerful yet restrained Chardonnay with typical Clayvin Vineyard minerality and ripe citrus fruit aromas. The palate shows good weight and a persistent refined finish (March 2017)
