Comment This 2018 shows a more intense golden colour than previous vintages due to 12 hours on skins prior to pressing. The nose opens with glacé ginger, apple strudel and ripe Beurre Bosc pears with a hint of orange blossom florals and brioche savouriness. The palate shows a great depth of fruit with lovely flavour richness and there's a textural weight and complexity to this wine without losing any focus and drive. A dry Pinot Gris with personality and interest. Certified Organic.

Short description A complex and textured Pinot Gris with flavour richness whilst retaining a lovely focus and drive (August 2018)
