Comment An elegant (almost Pinotesque) nose showing ripe boysenberry and blackberry bramble, deep violet florals and an inviting whiff of black pepper and Asian spice. On the palate there is ripe yet refined blue fruit with fine, layered tannins and balancing acidity. This Syrah is a wonderful expression of the cool climate in which it was grown. There's a physiological ripeness and complexity without any overripe, jammy characters or excessive alcohol.

Short description Expressive cool climate Syrah showing ripe blue fruit, florals and spice before revealing a textured palate with an elegant, linear finish. (February 2018)
