Comment A Pinot Gris with a difference. Opening with pristine stonefruit (nectarine) and intriguing aromatics (jasmine) this wine unfolds into flintstone minerality and almond brioche savouriness. The palate is full and precise with a fine structure and balanced acidity, all culminating in a long textural drive. Fermented and aged in a third 228L French barrels, a third 600L French barrels and the remaining in small horizontal stainless steel tanks.

Short description An attractive and textural Pinot Gris with good palate weight, combining stonefruit, almond and floral aromas with focussing minerality. (November 2015)
