Comment

A true "terroir" wine from our own vineyard here at the winery. The style might be best described as classic. There is nothing showy about it. Instead the nose has a gentle, masculine depth; multi-layered, intense yet discreet. The palate then reveals a wonderful diversity of spice and dark fruit aromas, long with persistent fine tannins. The least "obvious" but most refined Pinot Noir from this vineyard, showing the growing maturity of the vines but also of our own approach to this variety and our understanding of its finer qualities.

Short description

Multi-layered, refined Pinot Noir, intense yet discreet flavours of spice and dark fruit with persistent ripe tannin support. (November 2001)
