FINDING YOUR TRUE BRA SIZE

UNDERBUST

OVERBUST

How to Measure:

Wear an unpadded bra that fits well. Take your tape measure and measure your chest just under the bust with the tape measure parallel to the floor. This is your UNDERBUST size.

Then, place the tape measure around the fullest part of your breasts. This is your OVERBUST size.

Check your measurements against the chart to get your true BODY and CUP sizes, which together gives you your Bra Size.

Learn how to calculate your True Bra Size and remeasure every 2 years as our bodies change over time.

FINDING YOUR TRUE BRA SIZE

Sister Sizes:

(Applicable to all countries but using Australian sizes for illustration purposes.)

Most of us have more than one bra size. Depending on the bra design and how snug or loose you would like your UNDERBUST band to be, understand the concept of Sister Sizes to achieve your perfect fit.

If your true size is a 12B—12 being your BODY size and B being your CUP size—to find a tighter band bra, go down a BODY size and go up a CUP size (10C). To achieve a looser UNDERBUST fit, go up one BODY size and go down a CUP size (14A).

C size cup is not necessarily bigger than a B size cup. It depends on your UNDERBUST size.

It's all about proportion and comfort. Cup sizes are proportionate to your overall body size.
