Once we opened back up many of my clients began approaching me with their hair loss concerns, so I began looking into options." Mary further stated, "In my research, I learned about the seven clinical studies that HairMax conducted on laser energy for hair growth, resulting in eight FDA clearances. I was wowed with the science and the ongoing development of innovative technology for hair growth and hair wellness. I love the fact that as a Brand Ambassador for HairMax, I will be part of the solution that addresses a desperate situation for so many suffering from hair loss."

"I only recommend products that I try myself, so I began using the LaserBand 82 hair growth device and saw the results. When it comes to hair growth and wellness, nothing compares to HairMax," States Mary.

Francesca Dubsky, Director of Marketing stated: "There has been a significant uprise in reports of hair loss post Covid-19, typically appearing 2-3 months after diagnosis.
