

CHINA

1940 1 YUAN FARMERS BANK OF CHINA PICK 463 PCGS BANKNOTE GU66 PPQ

The Farmers Bank of China was a Chinese bank founded on April 1, 1933, in Hankou (modern day Wuhan) from the amalgamation of provincial agricultural banks in Henan, Hubei, Anhui and Jiangxi. Governed by the Farmers Bank of China Law, the bank was established to stimulate agricultural development by providing lines of credit to farmers and rural landowners. The loans were intended for use to purchase equipment and crops. The bank became one of the four major banks of the Nationalist era of China. Along with the Central Bank of China, Bank of China and Bank of Communications, the Farmers Bank of China was allowed to issue its own banknotes until 1942.

Butterfly Cutting Error PCGS Banknote Gem UNC 66 PPQ.

A butterfly cutting error has produced an extra tab of paper on this pack fresh original note. A very rare error, and even more special due to the note being fresh Uncirculated and perfectly preserved. Very Rare

