

19.

Loop the thread over the edge of the toy back to the front side. Push your needle from the front through both pieces of felt this time, so that it comes out at the same place as your first stitch. Pull the thread through.

20.

Loop the thread back to the front, move 4-5mm (3/16") to the right of your last stitch, and make a new stitch through both pieces of felt. Pull the thread through, but when a small loop remains, pass your needle from right to left through the loop. Then pull tight so that it makes neat stitch the shape of an upside-down L. This is known as a blanket stitch!

21.

Continue to blanket stitch all the way around the edge of the toy until you reach the far bottom corner (but haven't yet stitched the bottom edge). If you run out of thread at any time, secure your thread to the wrong side of the felt as in steps 12-13. Start your new stitch as in steps 17-20.

22.

Leaving the needle and thread still attached, half fill the toy with the stuffing, then add 1-2 pinches of the catnip and continue adding stuffing to the toy until it is nice and plump!

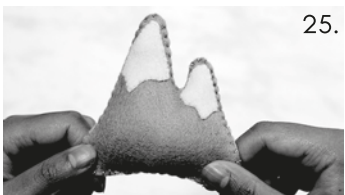

23.

Finish stitching up the toy with blanket stitch, using one finger to hold the stuffing in place as you go.

24.

When you reach the end, loop your thread through the top of the first stitch you made and tie a small knot. Repeat to secure, then push your needle through the edge of your toy and bring it out somewhere in the middle of the back piece of felt. Take the needle off, pull the thread taught in your fingers, and snip off flush with the felt. When you let go, the snipped end will disappear neatly inside your toy.

25.

Enjoy your completed toy with your cat!

Please keep all needles and threads away from cats. Children must be supervised by an adult.

1. With a pair of scissors, carefully cut out the template for your toy.

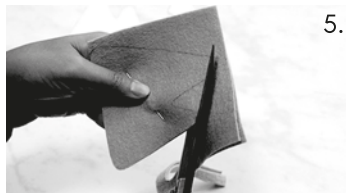

2. Take two pieces of matching felt and lay them squarely on top of each other.

3. Place the toy template on top and use a pencil to draw around.

4. Pin the felt squares together with the needle provided.

5. Cut the toy shape out from the felt. Remove needle and separate both felt shapes.

6. Repeat steps 1-3 using the snow cap templates and cut out (you will need one of each shape for one toy).

7. Cut a length of matching embroidery floss to the snow caps. The floss is made up of six strands, but we will use three strands only. Tease the ends of the floss apart into two sets of three.

8. Pull the two sections of thread away from each other, while twisting the main floss, until completely divided into two completely divided into two strands of three.

9. Take one piece of thread and thread all three strands through the eye of the needle.

10. Tie a knot at the opposite end of the thread. When you start stitching, make your first stitch from the back side of the felt towards the front, pulling the knot flush with the back side.

11. Place the snow cap felt shape on top of one of the mountain felt shapes. Starting as in step 10, make small stitches at right angles to the snow cap edge.

12. Continue with the stitching until the snow cap shape is fully stitched to the mountain shape, finish by carefully threading your needle through the back side of the felt (the messy side where the knot is).

13. Create a loop and thread the needle through, creating a small knot to secure the thread on the back side of the felt. Repeat to ensure the thread is secure. Cut off remaining thread.

14. Repeat steps 9-13 on the second, smaller snow cap felt shape.

15. Next, cut a length of matching embroidery floss to the mountain felt shapes. Divide your floss as in steps 7 and 8, then thread your needle and knot the thread at the opposite end.

16. Place both felt pieces together, lining up the edges. Make sure the felt snow caps are facing towards you.

17. Turn upside down and part felt slightly. Starting 1cm (3/8") in from the corner of the toy and 3-4mm (3/16") from the edge, thread the needle from between the two pieces of felt through the farthest piece of felt. Pull tight so that the end knot will sit inside the toy.

18. Press both pieces of felt together to begin stitching.
