Caution must be used when handling this product.

- Small children should never be allowed to fold or unfold the structure without adult supervision.
- Do not place heavy objects on this product.
- Discard if steel loop is broken or if this product is damaged.
- If your tent does not stand square or if you notice the panels are bowing/curving, you may experience difficulty folding and storing your product. Bowing panels may be the result of a twisted inner spring loop. To correct, firmly run your fingers around the panels' edges (black binding) of the product and where the spring loop is located. When you feel a twist or kink place hands on either side of it and pedal them backwards or forwards to untwist the loop and allow easier opening and folding.
