“GOOD” BETS:

- We definitely suggest betting the Knicks (spread -1 or money line -116). They should be favorites by 3 or 3.5 points according to our statistical models (and accounting for the fact that the Nuggets will be playing without their best scorer). Even if the spread moves to -2, go ahead.
- The statistical models also like the Hawks for a second straight game (not as much as we liked them two days ago, but it is still a profitable bet today). At this time of writing you can have them at -2 (money line -125), and even -2.5 would be fine, but don't go further than that. Cousins will be back from a suspension for the Kings, but they are still missing their second-best scorer Rudy Gay, as well as their fourth-best Ty Lawson. Atlanta will be too much to handle for Sacramento.

“PROCEED WITH CAUTION” BETS:

Depending on your risk-taking level, you could consider betting the Spurs (spread -4, money line -170) and the Timberwolves (spread -3.5, money line -161). But avoid if the line has worsened at the time you read this.

Following yesterday's win, our bankroll now stands at 831.58$. Recommended betting amounts:

Date	Road team	Home team	David MJ's pick	Odds	Risk amount	Win amount
2017-02-10	Nuggets	Knicks	KNICKS	1,86	39	33,62

2017-02-10	Spurs	Pistons	SPURS	1,59	20	11,76

Good luck everyone, and we'll talk again tomorrow!
