

NBA DAILY PREDICTIONS

Two amazingly profitable bets tonight, plus two more which are worth considering. I have decided to present my projections differently. There are two main changes: 1) the projections are presented in terms of spreads, rather than money lines; 2) instead of only showing the final projection, I display each of my five statistical models' output. Feel free to let me know whether you like it better this way or not (info@basketball-live-betting.com).

“AMAZING” BET (5 stars / 5):

- It's been a while since I last saw such a profitable bet. I don't know any other way to put it: JUST BET THE CLIPPERS (+8.5 at this time of writing). It wasn't a factor when making my projections, but I just read that the Clippers have won 16 of the last 17 against Utah, including the last 8 in Utah. It just builds up my confidence on this game even more.

“GREAT” BET (4 stars / 5):

- I also love the Pacers +4 at home against the Spurs. According to www.scoresandodds.com, 95% of the money has been going San Antonio’s way. I like it. I was also one of the few to pick the Knicks yesterday. Important note: at this time of writing, Thaddeus Young is listed as questionable. If he doesn’t play, I still recommend betting Indiana, but don’t risk as much.

“PROCEED WITH CAUTION” BETS (1 star / 5):

- Pick the Wizards, but only if you can get -5 at -102 or better.
- Pick the Hornets, but only if you can get -8 at -103 or better.

Good luck everyone, and we’ll talk again tomorrow!
