Narrator 5   But there was someone else there that they weren't expecting to see. Right by the manger was the messenger. And right next to the messenger was Woolly. Only Woolly didn't look so woolly anymore.

Sheep 3   What's happened, Woolly?

Sheep 4   Why did you leave?

Woolly   The baby Jesus needed a blanket.

Messenger   And Woolly is the only sheep in the whole flock who had enough wool.

Narrator 6   The sheep were amazed. Woolly was a hero! His wool had been used to make a cosy blanket for the baby. Baby Jesus looked very comfy and warm all wrapped up in the lovely soft blanket.

Narrator 1   Just at that moment the kings arrived at the stable.

The kings and courtiers enter the stable.

Narrator 1   They presented wonderful gifts to the baby Jesus.

Melchior   Gold for the baby.

Caspar   Frankincense for the baby.

Balthazar   Myrrh for the baby.

SPECIAL LITTLE CHILD

We have come to see the baby Jesus,
We have come to see the baby boy.
And here we are by his side,
This special little child.

We have waited for this special moment,
We have waited for this happy day.
And here we are by his side,
This special little child.

It is wonderful that we can be here,
It is wonderful to be with him.
And here we are by his side,
This special little child.

Narrator 2 Everyone watched the baby Jesus as he lay sleeping. The sheep and the shepherds couldn't believe how beautiful he was. And he looked so peaceful all snuggled up in Woolly's blanket.

Narrator 3 The sheep were pleased to see Woolly too.

Sheep 5 We're sorry we teased you, Woolly.

Sheep 6 We don't care how much wool you have.

Sheep 7 Please forgive us.

Narrator 4 But Woolly had already forgiven them. The sheep and the shepherds and the kings all gazed at the beautiful child. They knew that the birth of the Baby Jesus was the most wonderful thing that had ever happened.
