These posh household products will change your life

We're talking designer washing-up liquid and Labrador-friendly vacuum cleaners

You double-cleanse, you layer-scent and you take a fistful of vitamins every day, but you can't really call yourself a beauty addict until it's taken over every single aspect of your life, and that includes your daily household products. We're talking designer washing-up liquid and a Labrador-friendly vacuum (never mind that cleaner will be the only one to use it). Fix up, look sharp, people.

Kinn bathroom cleaner

The bathroom is where you perform your most, er, intimate functions, so why clean it with horrid, harsh chemicals when you could be using the plant-based, pH-neutral, rosemary- and lavender-infused bathroom cleaner from Kinn? Everyone deserves a loo that smells like flowers.
