

Agent Belt

The top grain steer hide of the Agent Belt is oak tanned, precision cut and hand sewn. It will carry and support the essential equipment of an armed operator. The design is the same thickness as a high end police duty belt. The dual layer carrier is constructed of two leather straps that are laminated together. They are then sewn back-to-back with nylon cord. The belt provides a durable weapon platform that remains stiff but flexible. Edges of the Agent Belt are sanded smooth, radiused and dyed.

The Agent Buckle is an exclusive ASP design. It is functional and distinctive. The buckle holds the end of the belt in place without need of a belt loop. The back of the buckle has a raised pad for personalization. The buckle is available with a brushed nickel, polished brass or matte black finish. Buckles are interchangeable. They are secured to the belt with two custom Chicago screws that feature the ASP Strike Force® logo on one side and a 1/16" hex recess on the reverse. This is the same socket that is used on all ASP duty equipment.

Traditional belts have five holes. Agent Belts have six. This allows the belt to be expanded by one position for use with an inside the waistband (IWB) scabbard. Holes are oval rather than round so the prong of the belt will rest flat in the frame of the buckle.

ASP Agent Belts are available in black or brown. Sizes range from 30 to 46. Belts should be ordered 2" greater than the waist size.
