▼ ONGUARD STUN KNIFE

Guard Dog Security's OnGuard Stun Knife combines two of the most popular self-defense weapons — the stun gun and the knife — into one. It resembles a real knife, but the real threat is the shock it delivers. The unsharpened "blade" area is wrapped with stunning nodes that activate when a button near the thumb area is pressed. Built-in batteries are rechargeable from a USB port.

C-GEAR UNIFORMS ▶

C-Gear now has more options than ever. Century has added dozens of new pieces to the line, which makes for 21 unique jacket designs and as many for pants. The jackets and pants, sold separately, allow you to mix and match for a grand total of 441 unique uniform combinations. C-Gear uniforms are lightweight and feature a competition cut. Their sublimation-printed colors won't crack and are fade resistant.

INSTRUCTIONAL HAND WRAPS ▶

ArrowWay has created what it calls the world's first instructional hand wraps. Printed on one side of each wrap is a sequence of numbered instructions: "around knuckles one time," "around wrist," "between pinky and ring finger" and so on. This may be the easiest way to prep for boxing or kickboxing.
