

Folding Handcuff Keys

Traditional handcuff keys are short and often difficult to use. Extended keys are hard to carry. Their double lock pin and pawl release catch on equipment and snag on clothing. A folding key solves those problems.

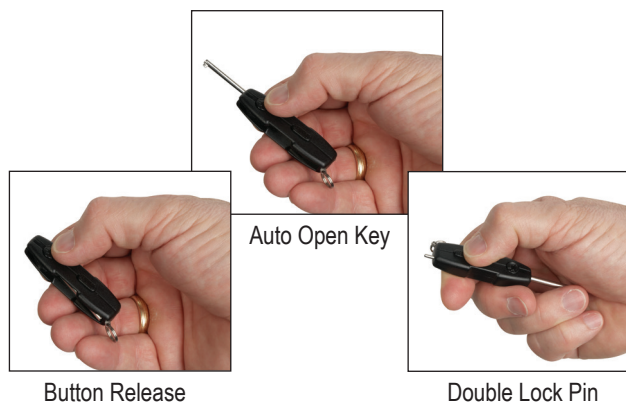

In their open position, the extended key is easy to use. In their folded position, there are no protruding pins or projecting openers. Hung on a keychain or carried in the pocket, the designs are ergonomic and smooth. They are small enough for constant carry, yet robust enough for duty use.

The AutoKey is simple and sleek. It allows an officer to properly orient its release by feel alone.

The Investigator provides an auxiliary screwdriver, pen blade, Liner Lock serrated blade and BackSet® handcuff key.

Both the AutoKey and Investigator are smooth, lightweight and user friendly.
