Greece is one of the oldest wine – producing regions in the world. The earliest evidence of Greek wine has been dated to 6,500 years ago, where wine was produced on a household or communal basis. In ancient times, as trade in wine became extensive, it was transported from end to end of the Mediterranean. The spread of Greek civilization and their worship of Dionysus, the god of wine, spread Dionysian cults throughout the Mediterranean as during the period of 1600 BC to the year 1.

“Nothing more excellent or valuable than wine was ever granted by the gods to man.”

- Plato

greek herbal drinks

In Ancient Greece, herbs were used both in food and for medicine. In fact, the whole system of medicine that the Ancient Greek physicians practiced is based around the variety of herbs and spices that are found growing in the Greek countryside. The Ancient Greek physician, Hippocrates, is credited with saying,

“Let food be your medicine, and medicine be your food”.

Herbs and spices did make it into the cuisine both as a cure and to enhance the flavour of the food.
