

A MESSAGE FROM IBI SCIENTIFIC

October 15th, 2022

This October marks the 18th year since IBI was acquired by myself & my business partner, John Stork. Nearly two decades and it feels like just yesterday that IBI Scientific took its first steps as a business.

While many things have changed since those formative years – our location, staff, products and goals; what has remained the same is our continuous desire to manufacture quality products and to provide outstanding customer service.

None of these things could be achieved if it were not for our dedicated staff, the expansion of our facility and our loyal customers.

We are so proud of how far IBI Scientific has come and we are so excited to see what the future has in store for us.

We extend our appreciation to each and every one of you.

Warm Regards,

Patrick Mueller
