

Brewing Iced Tea At Home

Three components are needed to make great tasting iced tea at home using your 10 to 12 cup coffee brewer. The method is as simple as 1 2 3 to make 1 gallon of delicious black or green tea. Items needed:

1 quart of concentrated tea

2 ounces of Dubuque Black or Green Tea

3 quarts of cold fresh water

Begin by filling your 1 gallon tea container with 2.5 to 3 quarts of cold fresh water

Next, portion out 2 ounces of Dubuque Black or Green Tea and place into the paper filter for your coffee machine. Place the paper filter into the brew basket of your 10 to 12 cup brewer.

Pour in the amount of water needed for the size of your brewer. This becomes your concentrated tea. When the brew is complete, pour the concentrate tea over the 2.5 to 3 quarts of cold water. Replace the coffee pot into the brewer and brew another time (the amount of water needed for 10 to 12 cups) through the same tea and filter. Now pour this second concentrate over the 2.5 to 3 quarts of cold water.

When complete you will have 1 gallon of delicious iced tea to enjoy.
