

HAY SHED HILL BLOCK 6 CHARDONNAY 2023

The Hay Shed Hill Block Series wines are made from small parcels of fruit from individual blocks on the vineyard to showcase the best of Hay Shed Hill. Planted in 1975 to Gin Gin (Mendoza) clone Chardonnay, Block 6 has a steep south-facing aspect thereby reducing the sunlight interception by the vines and creating a cool micro climate ideal for quality Chardonnay production. These dry grown vines produce tiny quantities of fruit with distinctive restrained minerally character.

This starts out rather fine and flinty with a light spray of citrus. Then it builds on the palate with layers of flavour from the oak, the lees and more fruit intensity. Mouth-watering sulphides, a stony sensation and racy acidity to the finish. Nice one.

Jane Faulkner | Halliday Wine Companion

There is a real intensity and purpose in this excellent chardonnay. But there is elegance and reserve at the same time. Aromas of quince paste and grapefruit with those subtle cashew characters in the background. Beautifully defined palette releases through to a sustained finish with a savoury influence over the dry chalky lemon zip characters.

Ray Jordan | WA Wine Review 2025

“These dry grown vines produce tiny quantities of fruit with distinctive restrained minerally character.”

Michael Kerrigan