

#sewpowerfulcards

This note card uses pink cardstock and a color printer to print out a lovely 3D card with inspirational messages on all sides. The word "JOY" on the cover opens to reveal a butterfly and a beautiful poem by Dana Buck about joy on the inside. The back reflects joy and the other eight "Fruits of the Spirit." What a great way to inspire one of "our" girls in Zambia and to carry on the "Joy" theme with a butterfly purse flap!

2. Print out the PDF note card using the double-sided function on your printer.
3. Print at 100% with no scaling.
4. Note: Our testers found best results using Adobe PDF reader or Edge browser.

7. Fold fronts crisply on the fold lines, pressing each side toward the center.
8. Add a greeting and your signature to the card.

Be sure to share your work in our Facebook group to inspire others. And, invite your craft friends to join our group, even if they don't sew. We always need note cards and card makers to support our girls!

JOY by Dana Buck

Joy is like a butterfly
Or so the poets told it
No darkened sky can stay its flight
And no cocoon
can hold it

Offering its beauty
As the Earth,
in awe, applauds Floating delicately
On the very breath of God

So, remember in the winter when the world seems cold and numbing

Spring lies
'round the corner
And the butterflies are coming...
