Mini Pop-Up Card

I've been using [these crafts] over the last few weeks at our children's club and the kids have loved them. I believe it is so important to make the crafts exciting for the kids, so that they want to take their craft home with them.

I have shared these resources with our Pastor of Children and Family Ministries and they have added wonderfully to our children's enjoyment of scriptural teaching. We want them to learn that studying and memorization of scripture is not a tedious duty but a joy-filled life habit that will enrich their faith and help them know their Saviour more intimately.

Heart Pop Card

Difficulty Level: ☆☆☆

Kids will need to be able to use scissors and glue and follow very basic folding instructions.

Materials Needed:

- One copy of the Heart Pop Up Card for each child
- Scissors
- Glue
- Crayons or markers

Before Copying or Folding: Write the Bible verse on the hearts, a portion on each heart. Write the verse reference on the cover of the card in the rectangle above the goose. Or, if your kids are old enough to write, make the copies and then have your kids write the verses themselves.

Instructions: Have kids cut the hearts and the card cover out along the solid exterior lines. Have kids color the pictures and write the verse if desired before they start folding.

Folding Instructions: Fold each heart in half vertically with the picture and verse on the interior of the fold and the blank side on the exterior. Unfold. Glue the blank right side of the first heart to the blank left side of the second heart. Glue the blank right side of the second heart to the blank left side of the third heart. Repeat until all hearts make a mini "book".

Fold the card cover vertically down the middle. Unfold. Glue the left blank side of the first heart to the left interior blank side of the cover, making the folds of the mini heart book line up with the fold of the cover. Glue the right blank side of the last heart to the right side of the cover. Close the card. When you open the card, you will see mini heart shaped pages in the card with the verse on them.
