

RE: California Prop 65 Product Labeling Compliance

Dear Valued Customer,

You are our current contact for your business. If you are not the correct point of contact for this letter, please forward to the appropriate person at your business. Please email us your Proposition 65 point of contact's name, email and phone number at Prop65@knfilters.com

We are in the process of complying with California Prop 65 labels and adding new ones to our products where required. New labels will be applied to all product shipments beginning August 30th, 2018.

Initially we will be using the "short-form" warning statement pursuant to Section 25602(b) as shown below while we continue to work with our supply base to assure we have a complete set of data concerning the chemicals that are used in our products. Once that information has been verified we will determine which product labels need to be updated to include the chemical names according to the "Safe Harbor" warning format.

 WARNING: Cancer and Reproductive Harm – www.P65Warnings.ca.gov

This warning will be applied to K&N Engineering and brand affiliates including AEM Intakes, AirAid and Spectre with the exception of K&N Engineering branded oil and fuel filters. Corresponding information will also be added to K&N Engineering and brand affiliate's, AEM Intakes, AirAid and Spectre products website and electronic catalog information.

Per California EPA guidance on transmitting Clear and Reasonable Warnings to California residents, this letter serves to transfer liability to our customers for communicating this Proposition 65 information to your customers, especially in e-commerce.

This email serves as confirmation that you have read this letter and understand your responsibilities.

Sincerely,

K&N Engineering, Inc.
