Before I realized I was an alcoholic—before I found Thistle Farms—I lost everything.

At first, I never thought I could stay the whole two years. But day by day, I learned more about my disease, listened to women who’d lived through similar situations, and began to build lasting friendships. I started to work toward goals and believe in myself.

I used to hear about the promises in meetings, and now I’m seeing them come true. I have a car and my own place. I’ve reconnected with my daughters and made sisters-for-life.

Without recovery and this program, I wouldn’t be here.

Life doesn’t always go according to plan, but I know now there’s always hope, and I don’t have to go it alone.

- Diana, 2022 Thistle Farms Graduate

Six Thistle Farms Graduates Move Into Affordable Housing

One of the greatest challenges for our program graduates is finding affordable Nashville housing that is free of triggers from their past.

To meet this need, Thistle Farms purchase 6 apartments in Nashville that will offer graduates and their families a beautiful, safe, and affordable place to call home.

Kristina, Christy, Val, Sheila, Debbie, and Charletta became our first graduates to benefit from this initiative.

We are excited to support this next chapter of their journeys with affordable rental rates and a safe community.

Meet Terrié

I have always strived to be a good mom, but unfortunately, drugs took over. Thistle Farms showed me how to love myself, be responsible, and offered me therapy so I could heal from my trauma. Now I can be a mom that’s present—physically and emotionally.

It’s the little things that make it so worth it:

I get to play with my children, clean our home, wash the dishes.
I get to pay bills because I have money in the bank that I choose to save.
I couldn’t speak up before, but I have a voice today.

My worst day in recovery will always be better than my best day in addiction.

- Terrié, 2022 Thistle Farms Graduate and Education & Outreach Data Coordinator
