THE DAHLIA IN BLACKENED BRASS (LEFT) AND BURNISHED BRASS (RIGHT).

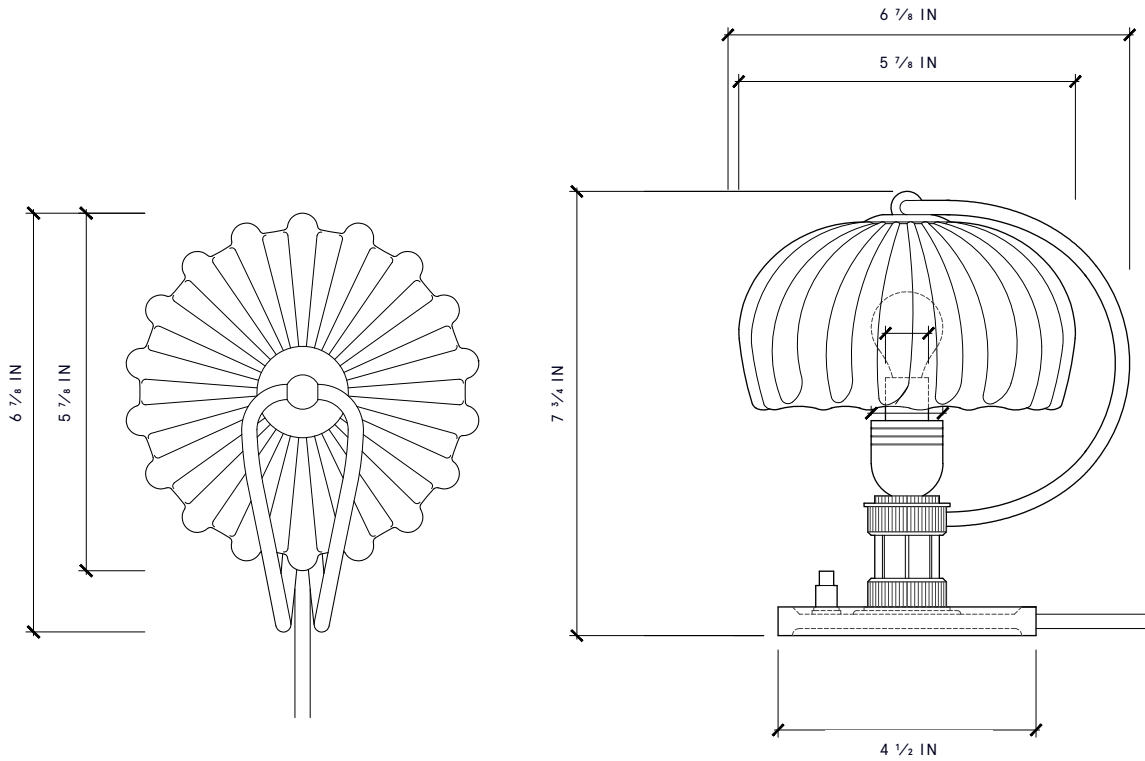

THE DAHLIA IN BURNISHED BRASS, ALABASTER SHADE

In the unrivaled opulence and otherworldly glow of alabaster, the Dahlia Table Lamp transfigures the world’s finest stone into a graceful flowerhead, weighing heavy on its stem-like arm.

Designed, prototyped, and refined by Stephen Alesch and Robin Standefer, the Dahlia Table Lamp features a luxurious alabaster shade hand-carved by artisans in Spain. Carved into a graceful blooming shape from a solid block of stone, each piece of alabaster is carefully selected for its ideal transparency and veining. In a third-generation, family owned French workshop in Paris, expert metalsmiths handcraft the fluted, solid brass base, stem, and arm, available in a range of exclusive RW Guild metal finishes. Beloved for its ease of carving as much as the magic of its otherworldly glow, the alabaster’s mysterious transparency and unequalled warmth are magnified by illuminating it, imbuing its surroundings with an ethereal, singular radiance.
