SOLNA

Cast glass globe, in just the perfect shape. Solna connects the dots of two different centuries; on the very cusp between traditional and modern. Swedish designer Hans Agne Jakobsson once made a lamp with a similar silhouette; we rearticulated his elliptical form with a lower lip, bright work, and chain.

“Innovators” are so often constantly trying to make a form you’ve never seen before, but this shape reminds us of beloved buildings like the Parthenon, or St. Peter’s Cathedral – it’s an architectural dome. We find these old, known and sacred forms so comforting.

Solna will also be available in nude and green glass.
