

New Partner for Bolling & Co.

Gwenith Jones has joined Bo Sullivan as co-owner of antique wallpaper purveyor Bolling & Company. Jones is a co-founder of Gracewood Design, a maker of custom handmade floor-cloths. The partners held a re-launch open house in the company's new gallery and studio in Portland, Oregon, in June.

Sullivan is a preservationist and antiques dealer who founded Bolling & Co. in 2013 as a way to present and sell antique wallpaper samples as artwork. Most of the company's beautiful and unusual papers are from the 1880s through the 1920s. Jones brings artistic skills, a passion for historical styles and home décor, and extensive customer-service experience to her role as manager.
