Sourcing of Mica Powder

From Day 1 our Company has been aware of the issues surrounding child labor in mines around the world.

Just Pigments helps supports organizations such as "Made in a Free World" an Organization that works with mines to get the children out of the mines and into schools.

Just Pigments sell no pigments that are manufactured with Mica Powder from Mines in India or South Africa.

On the other hand, BOYCOTTING all use of mica from these mines only further disadvantages children and families that are dependent of this form of labor for their livelihood. Their livelihoods often hang on a thread. Aidan McQuaide, director of the NGO Anti-Slavery International states that boycotts are not generally the best approach as "the livelihoods of many poor people can be threatened". The best way to combat this is to support agencies that focus on changing the systems that perpetuate it.
