

HELLO GIGGLES

— BEAUTY CHATTER

If you're thinking of transition to an all-vegan skin care regimen, here are 7 brands you need to know

Whether you're a strict vegetarian or just trying to be more mindful in your beauty regimen, it's as good a time as ever to treat yourself to some vegan skin care products. After all, doesn't a new beauty product that will make you glow like the sun without using animal-derived ingredients sound AWESOME?!

Before we dive into some of our favorites, we feel we should clarify what it means to qualify as a vegan skin care product in the first place.

In order to be considered a vegan skin care product, there have to be no traces of animal-derived ingredients, which includes, but isn't limited to, beeswax, honey, lanolin, collagen, albumin, carmine, cholesterol, gelatin, and many others we wouldn't immediately connect as animal-derived. This is not to be confused with cruelty-free skin care, which can technically be made with animal-derived products but is never tested on animals. Kind of confusing, huh?

There is, understandably, a lot of overlap between vegan and cruelty-free, though, but for the sake of potential confusions, we think it's important to differentiate what is what!

karigranskin

Follow

153 likes 4 comments

Introducing the Mini Kit & Lip Whip Gift Pack ❤️ the perfect way to share KG with someone you love ❤️

FEBRUARY 7

All of the cosmetics and skin care products from Kari Gran are made with natural ingredients and 100% cruelty-free, and they have a lot of great vegan options! We love the vegan lavender Cleansing Oil ($30) for a relaxing and gentle face wash at the end of a long day. It smells like we've just wandered into a freshly-bloomed field, and it leaves our skin soft and dewy.

<http://hellogiggles.com/vegan-skin-care-options-you-should-know/2/>