TRAVELING LIGHT: SKIN & BODY

BY ORGANIC BEAUTY TALK ON NOV, 21 2013

I travel a lot and have learned a thing or two about traveling light, especially when it comes to my skin and body products. Because I tend to only want to deal with carry-on luggage (who wants to pay extra if you don't have to), I've learned how to pair and maximize my organic and natural beauty essentials. I always keep full-sizes of most of these products as well (where applicable) and simply refill their mini counterparts when they run low. All of these items fit nicely in my clear Ecozip Snack/Sandwich Size Bag ($4.99 for a box of 30) so I can zip through security without any problems. With the holidays approaching and traveling on many people's mind, here are my personal favorite organic and natural skin and body care products that keep me traveling light:

◦ Kari Gran Starter Kit, $35 – My skin has never looked better and been so radiant and smooth since I started using Kari Gran.
