

well+GOOD

YOUR HEALTHIEST RELATIONSHIP

Monday, September 16, 2013

11 standout fall beauty products we love

September is a time of renewal, your skin cells included. So we sorted through the fall harvest of natural and organic beauty product launches and picked 11 standouts worth swapping for your summer standbys—from a must-have natural mascara and a skin-saving blemish buster to a luxe facial brightener. There's at least one that belongs in your medicine cabinet and on your skin ASAP. —Melisse Gelula

The Notable Newcomer

Kari Gran

Gran was a beauty junkie, when an autoimmune thyroid disorder caused her to become a better label reader. And that's when the Seattle native kicked her chemical cosmetics habit, and created her own beauty line. Her outstanding three skin-care products—cleansing oil, toner, and serum—are subtly scented, packed only with plant extracts, and hand-poured into chic packaging with a handwritten expiration date. Each help your skin look and feel healthy, so it glows. “Women don't need to be fixed, plumped, erased, or changed to be beautiful,” says Gran. $35 starter-size kit; $140 full-size kit, www.karigran.com