This Week's Wish List

(Clockwise from top left)

1. RMS Beauty Lip Shine in Sublime - I can't help but think of summer when I see this vibrant shade. Plus, since it's RMS, you know that this lip shine is nutrient-rich and will actually boost the health of your lips overall.
2. Tres Pure Face Trio - I have to admit that I have been a little obsessed with this line since I stumbled across it. The tonic and oil celebrate the magic of neroli and there is something alluring about the simplicity of the cleanser. I have already decided that I am purchasing the cleanser for my upcoming trip to Rome.
3. Lavett & Chin Sea Salt Texturizing Mist - my hair dryer and I are not friends. We are more like estranged acquaintances. Since I prefer to air dry, I think this mist will be the perfect pick me up and allow me to welcome the humidity with open arms.
4. Kari Gran Lip Whip - this lip balm is already a cult classic. I can't be the only one who hasn't tried it, right? That just wouldn't be fair...
5. Kahina Serum - I was able to coax a little information on this dynamite serum from the lovely Pemberley Jones and she confessed that it was "out of this world." So now I must have it.
