VACATIONS ARE MEANT TO be relaxing, but packing for one well (or realizing that you have not once you arrive!) can be a challenge. We're obsessed with every single boho chic piece created by LoveShackFancy creative director, Rebecca Hessel Cohen. Every new collection from the brand looks like a dream vacation wardrobe waiting to be packed up.

One glance at Rebecca's social feed (okay, it was more than a glance – check it out and tell us its not worth insta-stalking!) tells us that this woman has traveling in style down to a science and we asked her to share her ultimate beach vacation packing list with us. Perfectly functional and masterfully stylish, Rebecca's list has us jonesing for just one more weekend getaway before the summer is over...
