Presenter: Hello, and welcome to NOSY TV! And tonight you're in for a treat. Later, we see how 5 non-meat eaters took part in a sink or swim competition in 'Vegetarian Swimathon!' Tofuburgers, sweat and tears as the contestants are gradually eliminated in the shark-infested ocean. Also, Celebrity bungee jumping. Who will bounce the furthest? But first, a brand new series of 'Kidswap', where two youngsters are put into each other's homes and get to experience some pretty unusual house rules!!

(The stage needs to indicate 2 areas – 'House Red' and 'House Blue'. The child from House Red should have something to indicate they are from that colour house (perhaps a red sweater or hat), similarly for House Blue. The two children involved are in their own houses to start, but mime their goodbyes and swap over during the following.)

Voiceover: Day one. Our two unsuspecting kids are saying goodbye to their own families and setting off to find out what awaits them at the Kidswap House. When they get there, they'll have a chance to read the rules of their new house. Let's find out what happened when Kid Red got to House Blue ...

(Kid Red has moved to House Blue and is looking through the Blue Book of Rules.)
