

Sustainability at Pique

At Pique we are committed to reducing our impact on the environment and always searching for new ways to improve on our sustainability practices.

PACKAGING

As a small business we're eager to make steps to cut down on waste and put our best foot forward for both our customers and clients. We're proud to say that all of our food packaging is biodegradable and home compostable - we exclusively use brands such as vegware (made from plants) which means that once our delicious food has been eaten there's less unnecessary waste. All other packaging - including cutlery, plates - are all plastic free. We ensure that all of our cardboard, glass bottles, and other mixed recycling is properly collected and recycled with our local recycling centre and partners.

PRODUCE

At Pique we understand the importance of buying in season produce. That's why we change our menus and dishes accordingly and to what's in season in the UK- this means that our recipes only ever use local produce - as a result less produce is then being transported from overseas which then cuts down on our carbon footprint.

SUPPLIERS

As a small business we strive to support and work with both local and national suppliers. From our meat to our dairy, we ensure that our suppliers are taking responsibility and adopting sustainability practices through their own supply chain - through using recyclable packaging, better farming practices and transparency.

TEAM WORK

At Pique we encourage each other to adopt sustainability practices in our everyday lives. Most of our employees cycle to work or use public transportation. This effectively cuts down on their own carbon footprint. We promote our employees to cycle by setting up through our bike2work scheme, ensuring that they have the means to purchase a bike, helmet or any other necessary equipment needed.

TRANSPORTATION

Using electric vehicles massively reduces pollution and cuts down on harmful emissions. We're proud to own and use our fully electric Pique branded van for delivering and transporting food for events. We also aim and prefer to use local drivers with electric vehicles to deliver our hampers and food around London.
